Vapor Intrusion: The Conference II

October 5 - 6, 2017

Vapor Intrusion: The Conference II Legal, Technical and Regulatory Perspectives

The Carolinas Chapter of the Association of Environmental & Engineering Geologists (AEG) announces the second vapor intrusion conference, to be held at the Hilton University Charlotte Place on October 5 and 6, 2017. The conference is the culmination of 6 months of planning, selection of a venue perfect for a large group, and lining up an outstanding list of 23 speakers from across the United States, many nationally recognized, who are in the forefront of vapor intrusion. Registration forms are now available on the AEG website and on the AEG Carolinas Chapter website. These websites also have the link to the block of rooms reserved at the Hilton, at a special rate of $139/night.

Our keynote speakers will be Henry Schuver of the U.S. EPA (he also presented in 2014), Blayne Hartman of Hartman Environmental Geoscience, and Rod Thompson of IUPUI. Rod will be the keynote speaker for the Thursday afternoon session on TCE, immediately followed by a social with appetizers and beverages. A list of the 20 other speakers and their topics are on the websites referenced above.

The planners are pre-applying for education credits. We expect up to 12 hours of CEU credits will be available for geologists registered in North Carolina, South Carolina and Alabama, and similar CLE credits for attorneys licensed in North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Tennessee.

Over 200 environmental scientists, attorneys, developers, and researchers attended the VI conference in Raleigh in 2014 and we anticipate a similar if not larger audience for this year's conference. The 2017 conference will be in Charlotte to make it more convenient for those living throughout the Southeast region, with hopes for a large number of attendees from the states that neighbor North Carolina.
